Honorees are selected for their leadership, outstanding problem-solving skills and efforts to seek consensus-based solutions to the most challenging issues facing society. In addition, they exhibit a sense of vision and a capacity to bring about change, have been recognized for their efforts by their peers and other national and international leaders, and have contributed to society in ways that reflect the spirit and mission of The Keystone Center.

Each year The Keystone Center hosts more than 400 leaders from industry, government, and the NGO community at our annual dinner ceremony in recognition of these innovative leaders. Now in its 18th year, the Leadership Awards Dinner has become known as a premier event in Washington.

The Keystone Center seeks to solve our society's most challenging environmental, energy, and public health problems. We bring together today's public, private and civic sector leaders to confront these issues and we arm the next generation with the 21st Century intellectual and social skills required to effectively approach the questions they will face. Founded in 1975, The Center is a non-profit organization headquartered in Keystone, Colorado with offices in Denver and Washington, DC.
